

seems at all adequate. And how much time they have consumed! I think perhaps I am incapable (too lame-brained no doubt) of a long sustained piece of fiction. I really think that. It bothers me, too. But I have concluded that I will simply have to do that which I have some conviction I can do. I should like to talk to you about all this some time.

Again, many congratulations.

Love to Lane and Rosa.

Hazel