

May 19, Thursday 1983

Dear, Good Friend, Murray:

Although the Bugle had chosen to hide the story of your hospitalization in Section D, on a late page, at the bottom of Column 1, beyond the recipes in Dimension, I found it last night.

I leapt up at once and tried to call Rosa, as I reckon about a million other people did. I will try again this morning at a decent hour (it is now 6 a.m.)

I am mentally sending you all kinds of good vibes from this direction. I have not yet gone so far as to ask Billy G. to intercede, but I just may, unless you stay out of sick news notes.

I am back at work from my 17-day "vacation" in New Mexico and Kansas." The winds of change had blown hard, but the most disastrous sight I witnessed was Oral Roberts University in Tulsa.

In case you missed it and feel up to reading, I am sending you an Art Buchwald that was handed to me yesterday. Note the last paragraph.

Love to Rosa, too,

Hazel

Illustration by Nina Mortellito

NINA

CREATIVE  PAPERS
BY C.R. GIBSON

Printed in U.S.A.