

Buddhists a while back. Around 400 pipes, an Estey console, motor, and man-sized blower. This all pretty well fills his chicken house dwelling, which is being advertised for sale in Wall Street Journal. We all worry except Roger.

The beginning of your text is a real classic hooker. I wanted to read on and on at once. I hate to ration my time when I encounter this kind of reading.

I have had an interrupted summer, with too many people and too many mundane problems. I did of course, get my final revision of "Blackjack Country" in and have all but ready a collection of short stories, which I plan to enter in the University of Iowa annual awards for short stories thing...September 30 deadline. I asked for and received copies of three of their earlier awards winners, all of which disappointed me. They're well written, but only a few are "short stories" in my opinion. I feel out of date.

I am vaguely interested also in that new publishing company in Port Townsend (Greywolf) even tho Walker did not answer my letter of inquiry.

I have had complaints galore about the raise in price of my Island books. No one notified me of this, nor do I have any notion as to why this was done between printings.

Thank you very, very much for the gift of the wonderful book, your autograph, and your continuing friendship. And CONGRATULATIONS on a superb work, which I shall cherish.

Love, (To Lane, too.)

Hazel

...and a white back. Around 100 pages, an early comedy, mostly and a very few. This all very well with his children
...which is being advertised for sale in this paper
...we all worry except Roger.

The beginning of your book is a real classic book. I wanted to read it and on it once. I hope to read it again when I encounter this kind of reading.

I have had an interrupted summer with too many people and too many other problems. I did of course get my final revision of "The Book of the Year" in and have it in the collection of the University of Toronto, which I plan to enter in the University of Toronto library for their copies of their earlier awards
...I received a letter from you which I have read and
...I feel one of the
...I feel one of the

I am very grateful to you for the new publishing company in Toronto (Greywolf) even though I did not answer my letter to you.

I have had complaints about the price of my books
...to be settled as of this, for so I have any notion as to why this was done between publishers.

Thank you very, very much for the gift of the wonderful book
...and your continuing friendship... and
...which I shall cherish.

Love, (To Jane, too)

[Handwritten signature]